People analytics is so much more than running reports that show your existing metrics. It's using tools to collect and process your data, so you have a deeper understanding of your current business practices.

As an HR professional, you not only have the capacity to cull useful data about your business, but you can equip decision makers in your company with the insights you gained, incorporate those insights into their operations and strategies and provide solutions that add value to the organization.

Enroll today in this LIVE, virtual course and discover how you can use the data your company is collecting to make better talent decisions, improve workforce processes and promote positive employee experiences.
